Test Description

Probes: ALK (2p23)

Disease(s): Anaplastic large cell lymphoma, NHL

Clinical Significance

ALK gene rearrangements are associated with anaplastic large-cell lymphoma (ALCL), and patients with ALK-positive ALCL have a favorable prognosis compared to patients with ALK-negative ALCL. This FISH probe detects ALK gene rearrangements irrespective of the partner gene. This probe is available separately or as part of the NHL FISH Panel.
